MAGNOLIA REFINERY OPERATIONS HAVE BEEN DISCONTINUED

LOCAL UNIT COMPLETELY CLOSED DOWN FOR FIRST TIME SINCE 1898

All operations at the Corsicana refinery of the Magnolia Petroleum Company were suspended at midnight Friday for the first time since it was placed in service on Christmas Day, 1898, according to, an announcement Saturday morning.

The refinery was the first unit to be built west of the Mississippi river and in the Southwest and was constructed in 1898 by the late J. S. Cullinan, who had come tate J. S. Cullinan, who had come to Corsicana at the request of civic leaders after production in this area had reached 65,000 barreis annually and no market existed, E. R. Brown, now of Dallas, was the first superintendent of the plant.

Local officials said Saturday the plant was completely idle for the first time in its 43 year his-tory that paralleled the growth of the oil business from a business that utilized an unwanted substance to one of the nation's top industries. Operation had been suspended while repairs and improvements were being made in the past, but steam had always been kept up for fire protection and other uses.

Most of the employes of the local plant have been transferred to other Magnolia units in the South-west and those remaining will likely be moved within a short west and those remaining wing likely be moved within a short time. Although the refinery will be idle it has been indicated from reliable sources the plant will not be dismantled immediately.

Closing of the Corsicana refinery recalls that improvements and developments in drilling equipment and uses of petroleum initiated in this city supplied the impetus that made the industry one of the greatest in the world. The development of rotary drilling equipment, use of oil for locomotive fuel, gas for industrial and domestic fuel, using of oil on streets, use of gas engines for pumping equipment and many similar items were initiated and dompleted in this city.

FORMER CORSICANAN WINS SECOND PLACE IN PHOTO CONTEST

Fred Skelton of Dallas, son of Mrs. Estelle Skelton of this city, took second prize in a photo contest conducted by the new Mercantile National Bank of Dallas last week. Photos were restricted to the site of the new bank building which is now under construction. His photo was second out of a field of 245 entries.

Skelton has won high places in numerous photographic contests for the past several years. More recent wins include the first and second divisions of the photo contest held in connection with the Texas Bluebonnet Fiesta at Marlin last spring.

The camera used in the Dallas contest was won by Skelton in 1921, the model girplane contest.

contest was won by Skelton in 1931, in a model airplane contest.

RAF Strength In Far East Growing

SINGAPORE, Sept. 8.—(P)—The RAF's offensive strength in the Far East was further increased today by the arrival of what was officially described as "large numbers" of the latest type of British-built Bristol-Blenheim bombers.

The United States has furnished most of the recent reinforcements of Britain's air power in the South most of the recent removements of Britain's air power in the South Pacific—Lockheed Hudson bombers, Brewster Buffalo fighters and Catalina flying boats—while Australia has provided a steady flow of trainer-fighters.

Authorities said recent arrivals of personnel from Britain included more arreviewed fliers and numerous arreviewed fliers and numerous control of the said such as a series of t

many experienced fliers and num-bers of trained ground crews to maintain the planes flown by Brit-ish, Australian and New Zealand ish, Austranan and New Zealand airmen.

Informed sources were confident the Empire's land forces and armaments assembled in Malaya were sufficient to deal with any potential attacks but they said bombers were needed to blast enemy bases and strike at transports before they could approach these shores.

TOKYO, Sept. 8.—(P)—The Greer-Nazi submarine fight drew the attention of the Japanese press today from the U. S.-Japanese relations and even the shipments of American oil to Russia.

Commentators speculating on the sea battle's effects on Japanese policy thought the clash might have made necessary a new examination of the situation in the Pacific.

The government organ, Kokumin, interpreted the incident to mean Germany no longer thought it necessary to be patient with the United States. The incident portended, the paper added, a worldwide crisis in which "Japan's position has come to be exceedingly delicate and important."

Kokumin said contradictory American and German announcements regarding the naval fight made it doubtful whether Japan's tripartite obligations would take effect through extension of the incident, (This was a reference to Japan's commitment to go to the aid of Germany if the Reich is "attacked" by a power outside the present conflict.)

The Japanese press still ignored the arrival of three American oil tankers at Vladivostok.

GASOLINE CURFEW IN EASTERN U. S. HELD UNNECESSARY

CLAIMED TO HAVE LITTLE OR NO EFFECT ON CONSERV. ING SUPPLY MOTOR FUEL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(P)—The American Automobile Association urged today that the Eastern seaboard's 7 p. m. gasoline "curfew" be lifted, on the grounds that it was an "unnecessary inconvenience" which had little or no effect in conserving the East's supply of motor fuel.

This was one of several recommendations made by Russel E. Singer, general manager of the association, to the special senate committee investigating the petroleum supply.
